Clears Up Any Doubts As To What Senator La Follette Meant In Milwaukee.

THE MEN WHO SOUGHT ASSISTANCE

Letters From Candidates On The Lenroot Slate Asking Aid Of The Conservative Republicans
At Primaries.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., July 23.—"Read out of the La Follette camp." This is the predicament in which Assemblymen A. H. Dahl of Westby and George F. Beedle, of Embarrass, candidates for the republican nominations for state treasurer and commissioner for insurance, respectively, found themselves when Senator La Follette had made his coming-out speech for Speaker Lenroot in Milwaukee. The address was supposed to be directed chiefly against Governor Davidson, whom the La Follette people accuse of being "too acceptable" to the stalwart republicans of Wisconsin, but it now appears that the only men to whom the address was certainly applicable were Candidates Dahl and Beedle, who were supposed to have been placed on the La Follette slate by the senator himself at a conference in Chicago prior to the adjournment of congress.

In his Milwaukee speech Senator La Follette declared that no candidate who solicited or received secretly or openly the support of stalwarts in his campaign was entitled to be trusted. "If a man works with those who oppose the principles for which he is supposed to stand before election," declared the senator, "could he be blamed if he worked with the same men after election?"

Governor Davidson has not made a single stalwart appointment during his service in the executive office, and by every official act when opportunity offered, he showed clear preference for La Follette people over stalwarts. He has never ordered citizens out of the capitol because they were stalwarts in politics, but he has never shown to one of that faction an official favor. Consequently his friends declare that the remarks of Senator La Follette in favor of Speaker Lenroot do not apply to Gov. Davidson, but there is documentary evidence that La Follette's candidates, Assemblymen Dahl and Beedle, wrote letters to leading stalwarts soliciting their support. Assemblyman William O. Hanson, of Beloit, perhaps the most prominent anti-La Follette leader in the last legislature, has given out letters he received from both Dahl and Beedle, asking him to help them secure the nominations. They sought Assemblyman Dahl even goes to the extent in his letter asking for stalwart help to assert what must shock Senator La Follette, that stalwart Hanson is opposing La Follette's measures, was honest, and saying, "I hope the time is not far distant when we can extend the hand of good fellowship to all who are working under the banner of good fellowship in Wisconsin. If you can do so a little later on, I wish to assure in advance that any kind remark and any favor you may show me to assist me in this campaign will be appreciated and the kindness not forgotten."

Assemblyman Beedle wrote to Stalwart Hanson asking assistance in the form of names of people who would circulate nominating petitions for Beedle and promising to return the compliment at some future time with pleasure. The speech of Senator La Follette, if it hit at all, struck a possibly disastrous blow to the political hopes of his two former lieutenants in the legislature, Candidates Dahl and Beedle.

What La Follette Said.
The clearness with which Senator La Follette read out of his personal organization and faction any follower who might seek help from among stalwarts is shown by the following quotation from his Milwaukee speech: "The nomination and election of men to the next legislature who are sound at heart for the preservation and necessary amendment of laws already secured and for the enactment of other laws in the public interest is of supreme moment. Every man who believes in a Republican form of government, whether he be a private citizen, or a candidate for public office, should be free to aid in the selection of such men to the legislature. But how can any candidate who is receiving or expecting to receive the support of men who were hostile to a primary election law, who defeated railway taxation and rate regulation, session after session, oppose the nomination of such men to office? If he is to receive their support, either secretly or openly, to reciprocate? Is not such a result the inevitable tendency of even quantity, inviting and acquiescing in the support of men who are hostile to everything one is supposed to represent? Is it not a plain proposition that no man who receives the support of the enemies of the legislation which we have secured, of the additional measures which we must secure, can oppose the nomination and election of such men to the legislature? If a man works with those who oppose the principles for which he is supposed to stand before election, could he be blamed if he worked with the same men after election?"

What Dahl and Beedle Wrote.
The exactness with which this declaration of the factional boss applies to Candidates Dahl and Beedle, his lieutenants in the legislature, and supposed to be his choices on the Lenroot state ticket slate, is shown by their letters to Stalwart Hanson of Beloit, which are as follows:

Westby, Wis., April 14, 1906.
Hon. Wm. O. Hanson, Beloit, Wis.
Dear Mr. Hanson:—You are probably aware that I have announced my candidacy for State Treasurer. You know of my work in the legislature, and if you consider me qualified for the position, and can consistently do so, I should appreciate very much to have your support for my candidacy. Anything you may do for me will certainly be considered an act of friendship and kindness, and I shall greatly reciprocate the favor when the opportunity offers. With kindest regards, I remain,
Yours Truly,
A. H. DAHL.

Westby, Wis., April 21, 1906.
Hon. Wm. O. Hanson, Beloit, Wis.
Dear Friend Hanson:—I wish to thank you for your kind favor of the 17th inst., and for the frank manner in which you express yourself. I fully appreciate the friendly feeling you have towards me and the value you place upon my work in the Assembly. Whether I get any assistance from you or not in this campaign, the assurance that I have your friendship is worth a great deal to me. I know you are honest in your convictions, and while we have differed on some things, I have no doubt whatever that when we have differed we have differed honestly. I hope the time is not far distant when we can extend the hand of good fellowship to all working under the banner of republicanism in Wisconsin. If you can consistently do so a little later on, I wish to assure you in advance that any kind remark and any favor that you may show me to assist in this campaign will be appreciated and the kindness not forgotten.

With regards and best wishes, I remain,
A. H. DAHL.
Embarrass, Wis., May 22, 1906.
Hon. Wm. O. Hanson, Beloit, Wis.
Friend Hanson:—I am, as you are probably aware, a candidate for commissioner of insurance, and not being acquainted in your county I am writing you to ascertain whether you can give me the names of some parties in your district who will circulate my nomination papers. Hoping that I may have the pleasure of returning the compliment at some future time, I am,
Yours Truly,
GEO. F. BEEDLE.

WORK STARTED ON HITCHING STABLE

Architect Hilton Authorized to Draw Plans for Structure Costing $6,000.

Local men interested in the construction of a large hitching stable on North Bluff street met in the office of Attorney F. C. Grant last evening and elected as directors of their stock company: C. W. Kohmerer, Frank Jackson, and F. C. Grant. It was decided to have Architect Hilton draw plans for a building to cost about $6,000. The work of building the structure will be commenced, it is anticipated, within thirty days. The price paid for the land on which it is to be erected was $4,000.

When John D. Gets home again, if he wishes to avoid those process servers, he might get into the country undetected by assuming any of these disguises.

THROW BOMBS AT SINGER COMPANY

Anti-Jewish Riots Begin In Odessa--Inhabitants Are Fleeing The Town--Rowdies Plunder
The Homes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

St. Petersburg, July 24.—The way has been prepared for a military dictatorship by the proposition now under consideration at the Peterhof to create an advisory council to assist the Emperor.

Leaving St. Petersburg.
The exodus of foreigners continues today and the wife and children of the American ambassador, Meyer, leave tomorrow.

Throws Bombs.
Sosnowice, Russian Poland, July 24.—Simultaneously at noon yesterday bombs were thrown into four stores of the Singer Sewing Machine company located here, and at Bendzin, Zawierze and Czenstochau, wrecking each shop and wounding many persons. The bomb throwers were agents of the Polish socialist party which had made the Singer company an example of what may happen to others for refusing to contribute to the revolutionary cause. Intense excitement prevails and the Cossacks are patrolling the streets.

At Odessa.
London, July 24.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegraph company dated Odessa, July 24.—Anti-Jewish riots have commenced here and a number of persons have already been killed or wounded. The Cossacks and rowdies are plundering the deserted Jewish houses and shops while the city is in a state of panic. Many of the inhabitants are fleeing. The Black hundreds are distributing blood thirsty proclamations in the streets.

Make Arrests.
Viborg, July 24.—During the night members of the outlawed Russian parliament received word that two of their number, who had become distinguished by preaching the revolution from the rostrum of parliament have been arrested.

Pass Sentence.
St. Petersburg, July 24.—A proclamation announcing that the death sentence has been passed on the Emperor, Generals Treppoff and Orloff and M. Pobiedosteff, and others, has been scattered over part of Peterhof. The terrorists are said to have succeeded in mailing copies of the sentence on the doors of Orloff and Treppoff's quarters.

Members Return.
The bulk of the members of the outlawed Douma who had a meeting and issued an address to the people arrived here today from Viborg. A popular demonstration was prevented but the members were not arrested.

Address Is Radical.
The address, which bears a remarkable similarity to the manifesto framed by the council of workmen last November, which landed its authors and the editors of eight St. Petersburg newspapers in cells of the fortress of St. Peter and St. Paul, strikes the government in its most vulnerable point by declaring that the administration and not parliament is responsible for the delay in the settlement of the agrarian question and by proclaiming a cessation of payment of taxes and of military service and repudiation of future loans. The address is as follows:

Urges Stand for Rights.
Citizens, stand up for your trampled rights for popular representation and for an imperial parliament. Russia must not remain a day without popular representation. You possess the means of acquiring it. The government has, without the assent of the popular representatives, no right to collect taxes from the people nor to summon the people to military service. Therefore, you are now the government. The dissolved parliament was justified in giving neither money nor soldiers. Should the government, however, contract loans in order to procure funds, such loans will be invalid without the consent of the popular representatives. The Russian people will never acknowledge them and will not be called upon to pay them. Accordingly, until a popular representative parliament is summoned do not give a kopek to the throne or a soldier to the army. Be steadfast in your refusal. No power can resist the united indelible will of the people.

Citizens, in this obligatory and unavoidable struggle your representatives will be with you.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

In Detention Hospital. Diphtheria is said to be epidemic in Orfordville and two deaths have resulted from the disease. Dr. Q. O. Sutherland of the state board of health was first called in two weeks ago and again yesterday. A man who had been living at a boarding house went to consult a physician and his landlord, upon learning that he was afflicted with diphtheria, locked one door on him.

As it was necessary to remove the man from the doctor's office, Dr. Sutherland found it necessary to bring the man here and place him in the detention hospital. The obliging parties in charge of that institution refused to trouble themselves to ascertain the name of the unfortunate man when inquiry was made this afternoon.

Touring Car Parties. William G. Hibbard, Jr., of the wholesale hardware firm of Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Co., Chicago, Mrs. Hibbard, and Miss Hollansbee, and C. A. Urban and wife and son and F. G. Hehl and daughter of Terre Haute, Ind., composing two automobile parties which were quartered at the Hotel Myers over Sunday, departed for Lake Geneva yesterday.

Another party consisting of U. S. Beal and E. R. Keeler of Rockford arrived from Lake Geneva yesterday and still another party composed of George E. Stocking of Rockford, Ill., John A. Klindt and son and Otto Fabling of Cassville, Wis., brought Peter Hohennadel, Jr., here from Rockford last evening.

Early Threshing. George Thomas, whose farm is located on Thornridge in the town of La Prairie, has threshed both his rye and barley crops of this season. The crops from there south to Turtleville are reported to be the finest in the county.

Text of the Manifesto.

The following is the text of the parliamentary manifesto:

"To the people from their popular representatives:

"Citizens of all Russia: Parliament has been dissolved by ukase of July 21. You elected us as your representatives and instructed us to fight for our country and freedom. In execution of your instructions and our duty we drew up laws in order to insure freedom to the people. We demanded the removal of irresponsible ministers who were infringing the laws with impunity and oppressing freedom. First of all, however, we wanted to bring out a law respecting the distribution of land to working peasants and involving the assignment to this end of crown, appanages, monasteries and lands belonging to the clergy, and compulsory expropriation of private estates. The government held such a law to be inadmissible, and upon parliament once more urgently putting forward its resolution regarding compulsory expropriation parliament was dissolved."

Will Have no Parliament.
"The government promises to convolve a new parliament seven months hence. Russia must remain without popular representation for seven whole months, at a time when the people are standing on the brink of ruin, and industry and commerce are undermined, when the whole country is seething with unrest, and when the ministry has definitely shown its incapacity to do justice to popular needs. For seven months the government will act arbitrarily and will fight against the popular movement in order to obtain a pliable, subservient parliament. Should it succeed, however, in completely suppressing the popular movement the government will convolve no parliament at all."

HOODOO "TEXAS" IS DISMANTLED

ILL FATED BATTLESHIP PUT OUT OF COMMISSION.

GAMBLING ON CANAL ZONE

Employees Have Naught To Do With Spare Time And Monte Carlo Is Given A Rival.

(By William Wolf Smith.)

Washington, D. C. July 23.—(Special Correspondence.)—The battleship Texas, which has been dismantled at the Charleston Harbor, preparatory to her exit from the naval service, had the reputation of being a "hoodoo" vessel as well as the oldest ship in the United States Navy.

Among the sailors the Texas had the reputation of being the unluckiest ship in the American navy.

She was the first battleship constructed for the Navy and was modeled after the English and built in the Norfolk Navy Yard. From the day that the first hammer struck in her construction, it seems that she was doomed for a hoodoo. Her bad luck began in the building. She was laid down in the yard in 1890 and it was in 1895 before she was completed and commissioned. On her deck trial at Norfolk her propeller blade cut into a passing schooner and sank her. In the Spanish war the Texas could not get up enough speed to help very much and officers of the navy say she did more damage to herself in the shots she fired than to the enemy. The vessel was disliked by constructors of the navy because she was designed after an English ship and by private contractors for the reason that she was built in a government yard. In 1896 her first year aloft while lying in the harbor at Brooklyn, N. Y., as the result of a sea cock in the hold becoming unfastened. After great difficulties and the expenditure of many dollars, she was again placed in commission. Later the Texas ran ashore in Norfolk Harbor and in February, 1897, she went ashore at the Tortugas and ten months later went ashore in the Walabout channel. In Boston harbor she had an accident when a boiler blew up, badly injuring six men. Just previous to the Spanish War the Texas by mistake fired on the Marblehead at night, but the shots went high and did no damage. In that battle she was a poor steamer, making only six knots, burning great quantities of coal and being of little value to the other vessels of the fleet. So much criticism was heaped on the ill-fated ship that sailors would almost as soon be court-martialed as be detailed to her.

Senator Tillman of South Carolina once violated a law for the adoption of which he was so outspoken, but escaped punishment. About five years ago the Legislature of South Carolina enacted a law compelling the railroads in the state to provide separate coaches for the white and colored races. Shortly after its enactment a State Fair was held at Columbia, at which Senator Tillman was a visitor. "Realizing that the night train would be crowded I decided to return home from the fair on the noon train," says Mr. Tillman in relating the incident. "I got my grip and went to the depot and found every seat occupied in the white cars and a throng in the passageway. Not liking to stand up for the distance of 60 miles, I began to premeditate about from one car to another. Finally I got to a perfectly empty coach with no one in it except two darkies. I quietly and very modestly ensconced myself in one of the seats. The car I was in was as good as any of the others I had passed through but was marked 'colored' and was set apart under the law for colored people. I had no right there, but thought if I behaved myself my colored fellow-citizens will not object. After a while several colored men came into the car, among them a bright, copper-colored fellow-citizen of mine, who took a seat opposite me and began conversing. I know you, sir, began my colored friend. I went to Benedict College while you were governor." Senator Tillman replied that he hoped he had never heard anything bad about him, to which the colored man added: "No, we colored people like you. Some of us, though, make a terrible racket about some things you have said. Your bark is worse than your bite." Finally, says Mr. Tillman, the colored fellow with a gleam of humor, which simply convulsed me afterwards, although I did not relish it right off, said: "Governor, don't you think that the white folks ought to obey the laws they put on the books? I did not need any more hint. I reached for my grip and said, 'You are all right. I surely believe in obeying that law, because we would not let you ride either in the cars for the whites, and if you object to my riding here, I will go back.' And I walked back and stood on the platform the rest of the journey to my home."

It Hid A Luxurious Suit Of Straight And Very Dark Hair.

The Father of our Country concealed a luxuriant suit of hair beneath his queue wig. Many now wish the old fashion were in vogue, to conceal thinning hair or baldness. Yet no one need have thin hair not be bald. If cure the dandruff that causes both. Dandruff can not be cured by scouring the scalp, because it is a germ disease, and the germ has to be killed. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ—no other hair preparation will. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." There's no cure for dandruff but to kill the germ. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

ama Journal, who is in Washington on a brief visit, says the Canal Zone is being turned into a veritable Monte Carlo, so great is the gambling habit among the employees of the strip. He attributes this evil to a lack of anything else to pass away their spare time. "Colon and Panama are overrun with gamblers who fleece the canal employees on every hand. There are but few hotels or drinking places in either city that do not permit poker and other games of chance, to be carried on. Everything is wide-open on Sunday, there being no prohibitive law, and the canal employees, for lack of anything else to do, while away their Sabbaths in these dens of vice and ruin. Whatever may be the general moral effect of this gambling," continued Mr. Smith, "it is certain that it is proving detrimental to the young canal employees. Some of them owe their salaries for three months ahead, having lost all they possessed and borrowed heavily in order to keep in the games. When they reach this stage they become discontented, dishonest and untrustworthy. I have seen many stakes run as high as $1700 in a single hand."

Organized labor has announced that it is out for the scalp of Representative Littlefield of Maine, a member of the Judiciary Committee of the House and one of the leading lawyers of that body. They resent his attitude on the anti-injunction bill and will make a desperate attempt to wrest the Congressional honor from him during the campaign which will be opened shortly. So set are the laborites against the distinguished Maine statesman, that their leader, Samuel Compers, will conduct the campaign against Mr. Littlefield. But Mr. Littlefield will not be without help, for Speaker Cannon has announced his intention of making numerous speeches in his behalf, as has also Chairman Sherman of the Republican Congressional Campaign committee. Mr. Cannon will make a number of speeches in Maine and will also be heard in several towns in Mr. Littlefield's district. In these speeches Mr. Cannon has announced that he will not confine himself to the usual Republican arguments but will meet the charges of labor contained in the "bill of grievances" that organized labor is sending broadcast throughout the country. Mr. Compers has stated that he will probably make noon-hour talks in every factory town in the 2nd District. If he is successful against Mr. Littlefield he will regard his triumph as a great victory for organized labor. From present indications there promises to be some warm campaigning in Maine this summer.

On the eve of his elevation to the chief clerkship of the Files Division of the Indian Bureau, in which office he had been employed for the past twenty-seven years, Lewis Y. Ellis was stricken by death. Ellis had an enviable record in the Indian Bureau, having been late in reporting for duty but once during the twenty-seven years of his employment, and away from the office only three days on sick leave. Ellis entered the files division on May 24, 1879 and since then his habit was to reach his desk at a good while before the day's work began and not to leave until long after it ended. In fact never until all the work under his charge had been finished for the day. So faithful and conscientious an employee was Ellis that only a few days ago Commissioner of Indian Affairs Leupp wrote to Secretary Hitchcock in praise of the labors of the now dead employee, in which he said: "I may add to this remarkable record my personal tribute to the admirable way in which his work is performed. The division is such an illustration of conscientious business methods that I should be most reluctant to take Mr. Ellis away from it if he had not positively won promotion, which, with your approval, awaits him."

There is one bureau of the government that is at present swamped with work and can see no relief for the next two or three years, at least. The Treasury Department has announced that the work on the plans for the public buildings designed for the Jamestown Exposition, which is to be opened next April, will be taken up at once, and that all other work in the office of the Supervising Architect will be suspended until the Jamestown work is completed. The force under the Supervising Architect is very small and it will take their undivided attention for several months to complete the plans for the exposition buildings. When the 37th Congress passed an omnibus bill providing for the erection of 169 new buildings and to meet the demand on the architects under the Supervising Architect of the Treasury, one hundred additional draughtsmen were allowed. It took about three years to complete the work and at its conclusion the additional force of architects was dismissed. The public buildings bill passed at the session just closed provides for the erection of 260 buildings, and it is estimated by the Treasury officials that it will require four years of constant work to perfect the necessary plans and specifications. Up to the present time the Supervising Architect has been able to secure only 15 additional draughtsmen. Many of the old temporary force have secured better paying positions with private concerns and the Treasury Department is now put to it to secure competent help. Last week the Secretary of the Treasury removed the office of the auditor for the Navy Department from the Treasury Building to the new Munsey Building in order to make room for the additional force of architects needed in the Supervising Architect's office. However, draughtsmen are very scarce and it will be some months before the required number can be secured. In the meantime the work provided for by the public buildings bill of the last session will be relegated to the rear until the force of architects and draughtsmen complete the plans for the Jamestown Exposition buildings.

Baron Speck von Sternberg, on behalf of the German Government, has purchased a lot costing $150,000 on Kalorama Heights in the residential section of Washington, on which will be erected a new home for the German Embassy to cost in the neighborhood of $250,000. Plans for the new Embassy are said to have been completed by Ambassador Sternberg and building operations will begin shortly. The French Government recently purchased a lot on Kalorama Heights, near the site of the proposed new Embassy for the German Government and the two new structures will add to the prestige of that section of the city.

KICKERS' KOLUM.

Wants A Band Stand.

Mr. Editor:

I have been a frequent visitor to the band concerts in Janesville, but I never saw such an audience as they had Friday night. It seemed as though all the ladies and children in the city were there. The music was fine, but those of us who did not go early could not see the band as the platform was so low, and I cannot see how we get such good music when the players have to sit on a loose plank. Why cannot our city fathers give us a neat little covered platform, high enough so we can all see and not only that, but hear. Reading letters in the Gazette for the past few weeks, I was in hopes some one who had some influence would start the ball rolling.

Won't you speak a good word for us, Mr. Gazette, and see if we cannot show our band that we appreciate them, and not only this, but have a good place for public speakers, and singers at our reunions and conventions. Truly yours,

FIRST WARDER.

Letter From Sheriff Of Basin Ascertains Death And Letter From Sister Reveals Identity.

Last Tuesday the Gazette published a dispatch from Basin, Wyoming to the effect that Harry Schard, a former Janesville boy, was supposed to have been drowned near there; that the alleged death was a ruse on his part to escape detectives who were following him for a crime committed here, where his father, the dispatch said, was a wealthy banker. The efforts of the Gazette to reveal the identity of the man were fruitless. No one could be found in Janesville who remembered such a person and a query was sent to the Editor of The Rustler in Basin, requesting further particulars on the affair. After twenty-four hours, during which time no response was received the article was published.

The truth of the sad affair and the identity of Harry Schard, have been revealed. Miss Mamo Schard, who resides on route five, Janesville, writes the Gazette in substance as follows: The brother and sister of the so-called Harry Schard, which was Michael Schard by name, wish to contradict the statement: "Mike Schard was the son of a Rock county farmer, not banker, nine years ago he left this country following the baking and cooking business in the west since that time. The Gazette is pleased to learn that no shadow overhung his life and in publishing the following extends sincere sympathy to the bereaved brother and sister."

Basin, Wyo., July 15.

Miss M. B. Schard.

My Dear Madam: On the 13th of this month the body of your brother, Harry Schard, was found in the Big Horn river about 25 miles below the place of drowning and today he was buried the best we could possibly do on account of decomposition. I could not get his belongings if he had any at the camp he was working.

Former Janesville Young Man Is To Wed A Almond, Wis., Girl Tomorrow.

Invitations to the wedding of Miss Ethel P. Scott and Mr. Fred Holt in Almond, Wis., to take place Wednesday, the 25th, have been received in this city. The ceremony will be performed at the home of the bride. The many friends of the groom in this city will be surprised to learn of the approaching wedding. Mr. Holt is well known in Janesville, graduating from the Janesville high school with the class of '00 and later graduated from Milwaukee Normal school with honors. He is at present principal of the high school in Almond. The bride-to-be was assistant superintendent in the same school.

Erection of Tents For the Coming Session Starts Today—Many Improvements.

Mr. Lewis, who is to take charge of the Chautauqua in this city arrived from Sterling today and will begin to erect tents and do other things necessary for making this year's Chautauqua even better than that of last year. Much praise is being heard from every source this year for an excellent program which has been arranged and those who have had some experience with this kind of an outing say that as far as the program is concerned the meeting will certainly be a success. It is expected that there will be a large number present from neighboring towns. Twenty-five tents have been ordered from Mr. Holbrook the manager and they are to be erected in streets running from the main tent. These will be placed in the grove in such a manner that no trouble will be caused by water running into the tents. A new boat landing is being built and when completed will be a great accommodation to the large number of launches and row boats now on the river and to the large steamers which will make regular trips. Arrangements have been made with the owners of the adjacent grounds to allow teams to drive through the land to the arch, where hitching post will be placed in order to accommodate those who reach the grounds by carriage. This will be a great help to the people from the country and the people from the city who make the distance by road. A four-foot walk is being placed under the arch which forms part of the path, so in case of rain the mud will be avoided.

SELLS HORSE AT A

VERY GOOD PROFIT

Chas. Schaller Bought Circus Animal Cheap Sold For Good Fair Price.

Two years ago Chas. Schaller bought a horse of Ringling Bros. when they were showing in the city for a small amount of money on account of lameness which made it almost impossible for the circus people to carry the animal. The horse is iron gray in color and was one of the two leaders in a team of eight because of a wound received in the hock by the tongue of a circus wagon the wound would not heal owing to the continual moving of the circus and the constant jar of the car and the horse was sold for about $20. Mr. Schaller by constant care and doctoring has nearly cured the leg and yesterday he sold the animal to the Baxter Mining company. The price which he is said to receive is $125. The horse will be shipped to the mine in a few days in company with another which has been purchased.

FOR IMPROVEMENT OF KENTUCKY TOBACCO

The Government Has Begun a Series of Experiments in Breeding at Lexington.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., July 17.—With a view of improving the types of tobacco grown in Kentucky, the Bureau of Plant Industry of the Department of Agriculture has begun a series of experiments in tobacco breeding with the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington, Ky. The tobacco experts hope that by the proper selection and blending of the seeds the quality and quantity of tobacco raised in Kentucky will be advanced. A number of substitutions are to be established so that the seed of the improved varieties may be used by the tobacco growers near at hand.

There are a great many types and varieties of tobacco raised in Kentucky, largely due to the lack of attention to the production of seed from mixture or cross fertilization, thus making it necessary for the dealers to separate the crop brought to the markets by the farmers into a number of grades. Through the experiments inaugurated at Lexington the department hopes to secure uniformity in type of tobacco grown in that section of the form of crops if only these select farmers will be urged to save seed from the best plants of their crops, thus making it possible to have uniformity of crops if only these selected seeds are sown.

Demand For

Clean Food

One American Product Everybody Knows is Pure and Clean.

Clean food to eat and drink is as desirable as pure food. Unclean food can never be healthful—neither enjoyable. Nothing can so quickly steal away one's appetite or destroy the enjoyment of a pleasure as eating or drinking "a little more" thought, perhaps it is not clean. In these days of much agitation as to clean and unclean food we are often at a loss what to eat and drink. There is a sense of distrust of what is set before us. "Is it clean?" That is the very question we ask ourselves and its very asking turns us away.

It is the method of "handling" in the manufacture of a food product that makes it clean or not clean. Pabst beer is not "handled." It is manufactured from the purest materials by the most scrupulously clean machinery by the exclusive Pabst method of brewing which is most exacting in its cleanliness.

Pabst beer is a clean, wholesome food and the Pabst brewery is a model of cleanliness. No other food factory in the world can show such a record of cleanliness in the process of manufacture as the mammoth Pabst brewery, where the famous Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer is made and bottled. From brew to bottle or keg Pabst beer is never touched by human hands. It never enters tube, pipe or storage tank that has not been perfectly sterilized beforehand, in fact in its entire process of manufacture it never comes in contact with anything but sterilized utensils and pure filtered air.

When you pour out a glass of Pabst Blue Ribbon Beer you know you have a food that is clean and pure and wholesome. You will not distrust it. You will not ask, "Is it clean?" Adv.

All things are difficult before they are easy; such as

"getting the swing of it" in advertising a store.

State politics continue to boil and bubble but nothing like the old time enthusiasm is evident.

The primary law has knocked half the fun of an election out at one fell swoop.

While there is not much building in Janesville this summer there is a good deal of repairing and painting going on.

The long needed fountain at the Court House park has arrived, been put in place and is now being used by the grateful public.

The proposition to have a band stand in the park is a good one. It would mean that there would always be a place where concerts or public speaking could be held.

Janesville should have that interurban connection with Madison to make the present summers work complete.

Every day that Lenroot waits for La Follette to begin his speaking campaign for him takes a few voters off the band wagon and it never was crowded very much anyway.

Time will tell whether one man can say "you are not a republican because you do not believe as I do." One man patriotism appears to be on the wane in Wisconsin and we can all raise our hands and thank heaven it is so.

The Eagles have thus far soared pretty high in their base ball aspirations and it is probable they will find solid ground before the summer is over but as long as they are up, congratulations.

Milwaukee wants better train connection with Janesville. The Milwa-uke Journal advocates the move and thus far they have been successful in having accomplished what they set out to do in this line.

Local candidates will soon begin the scramble for office once more.

That is, those where there is a contest on. August fourth is the last date for filing nomination papers and the direct will of the people does not seem to be bringing out many candidates thus far.

THE DAY OF REST.

A bill providing for one compulsory day of rest in every week has been passed by the French Chamber of Deputies. It is aimed to put a stop to Sunday work or rather to work that continues seven days a week without a break.

This is legislation of vast significance. The French Chamber of Deputies has probably moved, to pass this bill by no religious consideration, for as a rule governing classes in France are not subject to religious influences, many of them being, indeed, distinctly hostile to religion. The economic considerations are influencing legislation to increase the efficiency of labor. The French legislators have recognized the principle that a country's productive output is enhanced by a day of periodical rest from toil. This is due to the fact that industrial efficiency depends on certain social and mental conditions which continuous employment tends to ignore, and where these conditions do not exist the productive power shows signs of demoral-ization and decline.

In the United States there has been no change in social life more conspicuous than that exhibited in the observance of Sunday. A generation ago Sunday observance was largely a reflection of old Puritan ideas. From that extreme we have in a few years moved rapidly to the opposite pole of what has been, perhaps, erroneously termed "the Continental Sabbath," a Sabbath in which religious observances have been more and more ignored and the day given up to pleasure.

There is no likelihood whatever of a return to Puritan strictness, but the laxity of Sunday observance has resulted in increasing the labor of vast number of workers in order to provide for the pleasure of the multitude. In other words, the day from being a day of rest and worship has become very largely a day of exhausting pleasures and work. This laxity has led many voluntarily to labor seven days a week, because in seven they can earn more than in six.

It is a question to what extent the country is being weakened economi-ally by this development, and the action of the French Chamber of Deputies suggest the idea that it may be necessary in this country to protect the right of every toler to one day's rest out of seven, and not only protect him in that right, but to compel him to exercise it, so that if he is obliged to work Sunday, he shall at least take some other day of the week for rest. Undoubtedly that country is the strongest and most enduring in which its population as a whole devotes one day in seven to wholesome rest and worship. It may be said that many of the rich, who have command of every day in the week, are setting a bad example of devoting Sunday to forms of pleasures that compel less fortunate people to work.

"Grass" Crop in La Crosse. La Crosse Chronicle: The unfortunate thing about it is that the superintendent really thinks he's doing well to turn out 20 high school grads a year in a town like La Crosse.

Explanation Looks Reasonable. Superior Telegram: The story that to be stung by bees will cure rheumatism is now disputed. It is now claimed that the sting only makes one forget his rheumatism for a short time.

Indiscreet—That's All. Oshkosh Northwestern: The request of Justice Marshall for a little rebate on his insurance premium may not have been illegal, or even intentionally wrong, but it was very indiscreet, to say the least.

A Poor Performer. Fond du Lac Commonwealth: That Ashland man who took poison, and finding that means of death too slow, shot himself only to find that the shock served as an emetic, certainly deserves the medal for a botch job.

Jim's Prospects Bright in North. Sturgeon Bay Advocate: Governor Davidson has thus far got decidedly the best of the contest that is being waged by himself and Lenroot, and present indications are that he will be nominated at the primaries by a very safe majority over any person or persons who may contest the honor with him.

The Constructive Affront. Exchange: Count De Castellane has given us an example of the constructive affront by writing a note to a personal offender telling the latter to "consider his face slapped." And possibly this will lead up to the constructive duel, in which each of the participants will politely inform the other to "consider himself shot."

Still Hammering Trusts. La Crosse Tribune: "We'd rather sell our ice in Chicago," blar the Oshkosh ice trust. "We don't need to sell a pound of ice in Oshkosh; we can get better prices in Chicago we've got the ice; let them pay for it. They might add: 'To Hades with the people; what we want is the money; let 'em pile it they don't pay our prices.' How like the La Crosse ultimatum.

A Nation's Ingratitude. Fond du Lac Bulletin: The condemnation of General Stoessel to death by a military tribunal for his surrender of Port Arthur to the Japs is a disgrace to a country already disgraced in many other ways. Never was there a more heroic defense in the history of the world and General Stoessel saved the lives of thousands of Russian soldiers and sailors. It is not likely that the sentence will be executed. The majesty of the Russian military law is appeased by the condemnation, but Russia can hardly face the contempt of the civilized world by carrying the sentence into execution. Stoessel did not merely save his own life by capitulating; he saved the lives of his soldiers and of the inhabitants of the town, which was sure to fall. Republics of the past have been ungrateful, but the Russian empire can go far beyond them by carrying out the unjust sentence.

Bad Taste—To Say Least. Sheboygan Journal: Senator La Follette has removed all doubt as to where he stands in the gubernatorial contest. He is ahead even of the band wagon in the Lenroot procession. He not only wishes to see Lenroot governor, but he announces that he will go out and work for Lenroot.

There is no law forbidding United States senators to take part in political campaigns if they so desire. They have the same privilege in that respect as other citizens of the state. But there are many republicans in Wisconsin, not all so-called stalwarts who will consider it bad taste for a United States senator to mix up in a political contest.

There are no great public questions before the people of Wisconsin on which the various republican gubernatorial candidates are divided. In fact, it is hard for anyone to discriminate between the various aspirants to decide which is the better man of the two. But Senator La Follette evidently has well defined ideas on that point. He thinks Lenroot is the man.

Whether the junior senator's breaking into the contest will increase the harmony in his party seems pretty doubtful. It all depends on how Senator La Follette goes about it. His enemies will be uncharitable enough to say that the senator is trying to keep his grip on the state by electing a governor who will do what La Follette wants. It looks as though the latter had forgotten his former ideas on political bossism.

REAL TEST OF FRIENDSHIP.

Incident Shows Politician Had Much Resourcefulness at Comparatively Early Age.

Little Tim Sullivan's resourcefulness as a politician is acknowledged by his fellow members of the New York board of aldermen. When a lad on festive occasions Little Tim knew what o'clock it was. He and Col. Mike Padden, secretary of state in the Sullivan cabinet, were at an East side ball with two of the rosy cheeked lassies of that neighborhood of peachy young women.

Little Tim and Col. Mike had between them exactly one dollar; no more, no less. Supper time came. Before taking the girls into the supper room Little Tim and Col. Mike secretly scanned the bill of fare and found that oyster stew at 25 cents each would just fit their pile. Little Tim blandly and innocently impressed this conclusion upon the young girls.

Anything Little Tim said was accepted as the top notch of hospitality. The four stews were before the little party. "One of the girls liked catsup. While administering a dose of the condiment the stopper shot into the stew and with it spurted half the bottle's contents.

"There, I've spoiled my stew," piped the beautiful one. "I'll have to have another." Little Tim, alert to the size of the joint wad of a dollar, reached for the girl's ruined stew, plumped it before Col. Mike, grabbed Col. Mike's untasted and unadorned stew, and placing it before the girl, soothingly said: "No, no, girlie, Col. Mike never eats an oyster stew without dosing it with catsup. He likes 'em that way—don't you, Mike?"

Mike said he did.

HAD HER CHOICE OF SEATS

Good-Humored Street Car Passenger Got More Than Even with Ill-Natured Woman.

When she entered the car it was easy to see that she was very angry. Her chin was high in the air and her lips were set in a rigid line. The car was crowded and every seat was occupied, so she pushed her way up front with a determination that gave further evidence of her vexation.

She reached the front end of the car just as a tall, good-looking man rose, and lifting his hat, asked in a pleasant voice: "Won't you have this seat?" "No, I won't," she snapped. The young man was surprised, but sat down again without speaking.

Real Easy Money.

"The easiest money I ever made," said a local shipping man the other day, "was handed to me in New York not long ago. I was visiting there and had a little time to myself, so I bought a paper and went down to the river front. I saw an advertisement in the paper saying that a tug was to be auctioned off that day, so I went to the place and stood around, examining the tug. After a while a man who had been watching me came over and began asking questions. I told him I was interested in boats and was from Philadelphia. Then he asked: 'What are you doing down here?'"

"I came down to the auction sale," I said. "Well," said the man, "if you want to keep on doing something for me, here's $100; do not bid on the tug. I took the money and departed. I had not the slightest intention of bidding."—Philadelphia Record.

A Tuberculosis Cure. A great deal of interest has been aroused in the medical world by the experiments being conducted by Dr. Giuseppe Carcano and other Italian experts in the use of the Bohring system of vaccination as a cure for consumption. While the experiments have not yet been completed, enough data have been collected to indicate that the investigators are at least on the right track, and a number of cures have been effected.

The treatment consists principally of the injection by means of an ordinary hypodermic syringe, of a serum into the veins of the patient. This serum is shortly to be placed at the disposal of physicians generally, in order that it may be tested in the largest number of cases and under as many conditions as possible.—Harper's Weekly.

Chinese Coffins.

Chinese coffins are made of timber eight to ten inches thick. It is calculated, therefore, that over 8,000,000 feet of timber is utilized yearly for coffins in China.

Japan's Hold on the Orient.

At a banquet in St. Petersburg a distinguished Russian general, a veteran of the disastrous war lately concluded in Manchuria, drank a toast to the next war and "Russia's revenge," preparations for which, he declared, were already on foot. It is going to be a big job to humble Japan—a troublesome, expensive, dangerous. It will be a job for the navies of Christendom, not the armies. Until Japan is driven from the sea she will rule Korea and hold Manchuria. There is nothing in history like the rise of Japan. She is a first-class power and ere the present century is complete nothing is going to be done in the "most eastern east" without her consent, and she will not consent unless she shall approve—that is, if she does not too soon get into a misunderstanding with a certain institution known as the British navy, now her ally, offensive and defensive. Japan will hold Manchuria against the Russian army as long as she is superior on the water to the Russian navy.

Reading on a Train.

If you travel back and forth into town every day you no doubt read your morning and evening paper, or a magazine, on the train, says "the Chicago American." While this is not, indeed, the best practice for the eyes, it seems a pity to waste so much time which might be turned to good account.

Much of the annoyance which comes from train reading is due to the jolting of the cars, which continually knocks the printed line out of focus with the eye.

This can be in some degree obviated by laying a card or some other object below the line to be read, and moving it steadily downward while reading. This acts as a guide to the eye, and helps to keep the sight fixed. Those who have tried it say that it wonderfully assists to decrease the difficulty of reading while in motion.

He Was Real Indiscreet.

Two Washington negroes' meeting in the street fell into a discussion of the peculiarities of a mutual friend. Said one: "What kind of a person is that man, anyhow? Seems to me he never do no work."

This Proposition Is Now Up

Can we longer afford to overlook the fact that we can secure the very best of dental service at about half the rates we have been paying? Dr. Richards of Janesville, the independent dentist, says he would be delighted to have his work (put out at a modest price) compared with work done by others at possibly double his prices. He affirms that the comparison will establish the fact that his work is good in every respect. His work is lasting. His work is done thoroughly. His work is substantial and, in fact, not excelled by that of any other local dentist.

In addition to the reasonableness of his prices, he gives close attention to painless work. Now see what you get by having him do your dental work.

COUNCIL HELD BUSY SESSION

ACADEMY ST. IMPROVEMENT RESOLUTION IS HELD OVER.

SETTLEMENT WITH T. P. BURNS

With Reference to Sidewalk on West Approach to Fourth Avenue Bridge Was Authorized.

At a protracted session last evening the city council authorized a contract with A. T. Rutledge & Co. of Rockford for the paving work on River street and the postoffice alleyway and accepted the bonds of the said firm; confirmed Mayor Hutchinson's appointments of Michael Hayes, H. L. McNamara, and David Conger to board gave the city marshal an annual vacation of fifteen days with pay; awarded the contract for cement walk construction in front of several school buildings to W. J. Hill, his bid of 73c per yard being the lowest of three submitted; awarded the contract of furnishing the city with 25 tons of range coal, 25 tons of pea coal, 10 tons of egg, 50 tons of large coal, and 15 tons of Hooking Valley, to F. A. Taylor, his quotations of $8.05 for range and egg, $6.00 for pea and Hooking Valley, being several cents lower than those of the three other bidders; and transacted considerable other important business matters concerned mainly with the highways.

For Further Consideration. Matters held over for further consideration were: a proposition by Charles King to provide street signs for 12 cents each and tack them up for $4 a hundred and set signs and posts where needed for 63 cents each; the petition of some seventy citizens for an appropriation for building a permanent bandstand in the Court House park; Assistant Street Commissioner Thos. McKenna's recommendation that new walks be constructed in front of the city hall, 5, west of Wells street, block 12, Forest Park addition, on Oakland avenue, and lot 1, block 12, Forest Park addition, on Oakland avenue; the protest of certain property owners against building a sewer on Fourth avenue and North Bluff street; the petition for crosswalks at the intersection of Harrison and Court streets on the west side of Harrison street and on Harrison street on the south side of Court; and the plans and specifications and final report of the street assessment committee on the proposed improvement of North Academy street with macadam, curbing and gutters.

Ald. Fish Refused to Vote. The last mentioned plans were associated with others calling for similar improvements on Washington and Terrace streets. When a hearing was granted to property owners A. A. Jackson took exception to the appraisal of 70 cents a foot for curbing on the ground that the same work was being done elsewhere in the city for 58 cents a foot. John Cunningham, representing a number of North Academy street residents, appeared against the ordinance to macadam Academy street. A. A. Jackson objected to the St. Paul railroad company against the assessment on Academy street for the 100-foot track right-of-way, when it was moved that the plans for Washington and Terrace streets be accepted and placed on file. Alderman Fish asked to be excused from voting. If action was not to be taken on the Academy street plans he refused to be a party to ordering the other improvements. Owing to the absence of Aldermen Connell and Rudolph his refusal to vote promised to block the proceedings for a time, but after investigation a two-thirds vote was found to be sufficient and the resolution carried.

Fourth Street Bridge Approach. Alderman Dulin introduced an order authorizing the mayor to make a contract in behalf of the city to pay back a tax of $30.55 collected for building a brick sidewalk on the southerly side of the buildings owned and occupied by the Janesville Battering Mills, a corporation whose plant is situated on West River lot No. 37 and making other concessions couched in such intricate phrases that their purport cannot be clearly grasped, even after careful reading. The city's ownership of a portion of the west approach to the Fourth avenue bridge is in dispute owing to the vague terms of the original instruments of transfer and the present indefinite character of boundaries which have now disappeared. T. P. Burns claims that he city in building a walk supposedly on its private property and then charged him with the cost. Some of the aldermen ventured the conjecture last evening that the city in making its settlement would not only turn to Mr. Burns the cost price of the walk, but would also waive its claims to the land which are supposed to rest on quite as good a foundation as are his claims. Alderman Sheridan objected to the adoption of the order and Alderman Buchholz and Hager likewise voted against it. It passed by a vote of 5 to 3.

Miscellaneous Business. The Janesville Water Co. was instructed to move the fire hydrant located on the southerly side of West and Pleasant streets to the corner of West Milwaukee and Pleasant streets, under the direction of the chief of the fire department. On motion of Ald. Merritt The Central Land Co. was granted a right of way for the building of a frame addition to the Madison street with in the fire limits. Sidewalk grades for the north side of Glen street from Thomas to Cornelia street and for Stone street were filed and accepted. The order of July 9 providing for the grading and macadamizing of South Bluff street from South First to South Second was rescinded and the owners of property were given permission to grade or pave at their own expense under the direction of the city engineer. The park committee was authorized to have the park side of Washington street sprinkled. Permission was granted the Janesville Machine Co. to place an oil tank four feet under Center street between S. River and Franklin streets. The city clerk was authorized to advertise for bids for the painting of the Court street bridge.

STRICKEN WHILE ON VACATION OUTING

Phil Johnson of Princeton, Ill., Formerly Teacher in Local High School, Is Ill Here.

With his left arm and left leg paralyzed Phil Johnson of Princeton, Ill., lies in a critical condition at the home of Harry Ranous on South Main street. Dr. J. W. St. John is attending and though no fear is felt for Mr. Johnson's life his case is peculiar and the outcome is in doubt. He was enjoying camp life at Lake Kegonsa with the choir boys of the Trinity church when suddenly stricken ill yesterday. He was hurried home late yesterday afternoon and taken in the Russell ambulance to Mr. Ranous' home. Mr. Johnson has suffered severe headaches for some time and yesterday the cause of trouble, a clot on the brain, resulted in partial paralysis. Mr. Johnson is manager of the commercial department in the Princeton high school and is well known here having held a similar position in the local high school several years ago.

MRS. VAN DE WATER HOSTESS AT HOME

Entertaining This Afternoon—Will Have Another Reception Thursday Afternoon.

Mrs. Frederick Van de Water is entertaining at her residence, 56 S. Third street, this afternoon. Ninety invitations for an "at home" were issued and the response was a unanimous acceptance. The hostess will give a second reception of the kind Thursday afternoon at half past two o'clock. For this more than fifty invitations have been issued.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Burr Robbins Is Prospering: Burr Robbins, whose circus headquarters were in Janesville a score or more years ago, recently closed a real estate deal in Chicago which netted him a profit of $32,000. The land in question was purchased for $33,000 and subsequently proving indispensable to the C. & N. W. Ry. Co., was purchased by Mr. Robbins for $65,000. Since leaving Janesville the former circus man has made a comfortable fortune in Chicago real estate. His operations have been concerned mainly with property on the North shore, the site of the present suburb of Edgewater.

At Homesite Mine: According to correspondence from Mineral, Point large quantities of rich lead have been uncovered at the Homesite, the sheet running as high as 12 inches thick. The property is owned by about 50 Janesville men. Fred Howe president; John L. Fisher, secretary; and W. T. Sherer, treasurer.

Have Returned: The choir boys of Trinity church returned last evening from Lake Kegonsa where they have been enjoying a two weeks' outing. Humorous Reminder: To call attention to miniature pond in the street gutter in front of the Philip Reuss saloon on North River street some humorous minded reformer has placed a fish pole, with line dangling in the water, on a nearby telephone pole. Is it a reminder for the street commissioner?

Regular Meeting: Regular meeting of the American Social & Beneficial club at East Side I. O. O. F. hall, Wednesday, July 25. A good attendance is desired.

Stole Case of Beer: Thieves broke into the Grand Brewing Co. warehouse through a window some time Saturday night and got away with a case of beer. The parties are believed to be the same who broke into the Buob Brewing Co. bottling works three weeks ago.

Finds His Dog: The valuable bull terrier which was stolen from Tim McKelgue six months ago, was recovered by him in Fond du Lac. The thoroughbred dog was a pet of Mr. McKelgue and his loss was keenly felt by him.

OBITUARY.

Dr. W. D. McAfee. Dr. W. D. McAfee, a member of the Grand Army, well known in Janesville, died at the Rockford Hospital Friday night. He has been suffering with a kidney ailment for several years and his death followed a several weeks' illness during much of which time he was in a coma. The funeral was held Sunday afternoon and the services were conducted by Nevins Post, G. A. R. Dr. McAfee was known the country over among members of the Grand Army. Nevins Post, being No. 1 in the national encampment, always had the right of the line in department and national encampment parades. Dr. McAfee, a former Commander in Chief T. C. G. lawyer, from their large physique, always led the post and thus were at the head of the entire column. As a singer also, Dr. McAfee was well known in the camp fires of the encampments and thus had a wide acquaintance among Grand Army men the country over.

STREET REPAIRS AND SIDEWALKS ORDERED

By the City Council at the Regular Meeting Last Evening—Some Dissatisfaction Felt.

Sinclair street from Milwaukee avenue to Court street and South Bluff street from Milwaukee to Court street were ordered repaired by the city council last evening. Owners of property on some of the highways parallel to Sinclair street who object to this manner of shouldering the burden on the city when they had a macadamize their thoroughfares at their own expense, have already been heard from. Other work assigned to the street commissioner was the building of brick crosswalks on School street on the east side of High at the corner of Milton and St. Mary's avenues, and at the corner of S. First and Wisconsin. Sts. That officer was also instructed to repair Second street and clean the gutter on First street; to serve notice on the owner of lots 25 and 26 of the Smith, Bailey & Stone addition to build standard walks on South River street; to grade Hyatt and S. Hickory streets and St. Mary's avenue and clean the gutters; to enlarge the storm water inlet at the northwest corner of Milwaukee and River streets and place a new inlet on the westerly side of the raceway alley where it intersects Milwaukee street; and to repair the Delavan road from Sharon to Vine street.

Permission to build four foot walks was granted to the owners of property on North St. and on the east side of S. Franklin south of Oak street, on the west side of Gold St. between Pleasant and Center streets, on each side of East street between Oakland avenue and South Third, on Division street between Oakland and S. Third, on Wisconsin street between S. Third and Oakland Ave. Property owners on the west side of East street between Oakland avenue and S. Third are to be directed to build a standard walk. Curb lines were ordered established on South Academy and School streets sixteen feet from the property line on each side. The city engineer was directed to file grades for Racine street from Bluff to the city limits, for Oakland avenue from Bluff to Jackson and establish a sidewalk grade for the latter.

Atty. A. A. Jackson in speaking of the proposed improvements on Terrace street said that considerable filling in for new walks would have to be done and that it would not be advisable to lay cement on the new filling until next season. He asked consent for the property holders to put back the plank walks until next season. The council was in a quandary on this matter and no action was taken.

Supt. C. A. Potter's report of the work at the stone crusher for the two weeks ending July 22 showed that two men had been employed 140 hours and that 13 1/2 yards of crushed stone had been delivered—6 yds. in the first week, 1 1/2 yards in the second week, 4 1/2 to B. P. Crossman for the fountain, and 1 1/2 to Dr. E. E. Lucas.

The finance committee's report on bills included items of $165 each for the five assessors—David Conger, John J. Comstock, C. E. Conrad, August Lutz, and Geo. T. Croft. The report was adopted and the usual salary list was passed.

TREASURER'S BOOKS WERE FOUND CORRECT

Sources of City's Revenues Shown in Report of Harry S. Haggart, As Auditor.

City Treasurer James A. Father's books and accounts were found correct in every particular by Harry S. Haggart, employed by the city to audit them, and he so reported to the City Fathers last evening. The balances in the various funds on July are set forth in detail in his report, the total in the Bower City bank being $23,659.35 and cash in the drawer $447.45, making a grand total of $24,106.80. In examining the books he found that during the fiscal year a total of $182,319.77 was paid by the treasurer from the following sources: Taxes, including levy and special taxes—$123,293.38; State and county for the support of schools, collection of taxes, etc.—$17,617.12; Fire police tax on insurance agents—$3,459.84; Municipal court and other fines and fees—$2,227.19; Saloon licenses—$24,500; Other licenses—$563.80; Costs on delinquent taxes—$530.14; Tuition—$1,499.15; Sale on improvement bonds and premiums on the same—$5,456.15; Interest on bank balance—$1,477.48; Money borrowed—$3,000; Miscellaneous—$595.51.

USER OF NEW SPELLING

Simplified System Adopted by Justice David J. Brewer.

FOLLOWED WHENEVER POSSIBLE

Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Has Agreed to Write His Opinions According to Reform Methods of Orthography—Twelve Words to Be Changed as a Beginning—More to Be Added Soon.

"I have agreed to use the new simplified method in spelling in writing my opinions," said Associate Justice David J. Brewer of the United States supreme court in Washington, when asked recently by the New York World concerning his joining in the new movement. "For some time I have followed the practice of shortening my spelling of certain words, as 'alith', 'thru' and 'program'. Of course I cannot control the actions of the supreme court in the matter of spelling, but have adopted the new method for my own use."

"The spelling of many educated men is atrocious. They never will learn to spell according to the rules of the English language. But if the simplified method is adopted I believe it will help them."

"There is no reason why we should not spell words the way they are pronounced. The adoption of this system would save time and labor, and after the prejudice against the reform has disappeared some progress will be made in this direction."

"Of course the new system will seem strange until the people become accustomed to it. So did the old style of spelling used by the people of a generation ago. It was customary to spell the words 'labor' and 'honour' with the letter 'u', and the old-fashioned 'labour' and 'honour' seem as strange to us as will 'thru' and 'alith' to the people of a generation hence."

"The simplified spelling board has organized a society for the purpose of bringing about a reform in spelling. The head of this organization is Brandegee Matthews, and the other officers of the organization are leaders in educational and other lines of work. I am a member of this society. We have agreed whenever possible to use the new method of spelling. There are twelve words which the members of the organization have agreed to spell in the new way when they remember to do so. The words are 'program', 'decide', 'prolog', 'tho', 'alith', 'thoro', 'thorore', 'thru' and four others which I cannot at this moment recall."

"These simple changes will not shock any one, and we will gradually become accustomed to using the words in their new form, and in a few years every one will adopt this plan. This movement has been on foot for some time. In a short time it is the purpose of the society to enlarge the number of words which will be spelled the way they are pronounced."

"For years my brother, who was connected with a college in Iowa, was interested in this movement. He visited the Sandwich Islands, and my niece was called on to write a composition, the subject being the 'Sandwich Islands'. She came to me for some information, and I referred her to my brother. He wrote her an interesting letter on the subject, using the new method of spelling. This letter gave much valuable information to the other scholars, could not obtain and was the means of my niece winning the prize. For days she studied the letter and spent much time in committing it to memory. She was asked why she did not read the letter or submit it in the competition. She replied that she was ashamed to do so, as it would show the other scholars what a 'poor speller' her uncle was."

Gun Cotton as Fuel.

"Light another 100 foot candle of condensed gun cotton! We must make the next mile in less than a minute!" That command or something like it will be given by the commander of a United States torpedo boat in the next war in which the United States may be unopposedly engaged, writes W. H. Stewart in Technical World Magazine for April. It will not mean that, finding his ship in a desperate situation, the captain has decided to blow himself and his whole command out of the water. It will signify only the adoption as emergency fuel of the wonderful new compound, "motorite," a secret composition of gun cotton and nitroglycerin, invented by Hiram Maxim, whose "maximite" is the high explosive now used by the government in submarine torpedoes. Motorite for fuel is packed in long steel tubes and under forced draft can furnish an almost unlimited amount of power for a short distance.

Trapping to Pay College Bills.

Since Nov. 25, E. M. Wheeler, who lives near Chatham, Pa., has trapped thirty-two muskrats and a much larger number of muskrats, rabbits, possum and other less valuable varmints. DANGER THE COMMON LOT

New England's Fears of Strenuous Life Surprised Inhabitant of Southern Town.

When Mr. Trent decided to buy a home in the south in which he and his family could spend the spring months, during which they had found New England winds and weather to be trying, he took a journey of investigation.

Mr. Trent was accustomed to be treated as if his society were eminent, desirable, and it was therefore with a friendly and engaging smile that he addressed a melancholy person who was lounging on the piazza of the hotel at his first southern stopping place.

"I'm thinking of buying a place down here," said Mr. Trent, in a half-confidential tone. "Now what part of the country would you particularly recommend? The landlord tells me you've lived south for many years."

"Yes, I've lived south a long spell," admitted the melancholy man, "though I was raised in the north, and I'm willing to say right here and now that you couldn't find a more favorable spot in this whole state, sir, than this very town. I have lived here for five years, and if I'd had anything like a fair show I should have enjoyed every minute of the time."

"You haven't had a fair show?" asked the New Englander.

"No," said the melancholy one. "This is a lovely spot, and if I'd had a fair show I'd have enjoyed it, but the first year I had fever and ague, and the next year I was bit by a shark, and the third year I had an awful fight with a snake that shook up my nerves, and last year—"

"I doubt if I should like this locality," said the New Englander, briskly. The melancholy man looked at him with mild astonishment.

"Why, you know it's pretty dangerous living anywhere," stranger," he said, slowly. "If that's what you're thinking about." —Youth's Companion.

THOUGHT SHE WAS FLIRTING

New Motorman Had Much to Learn as to the Duties of His Position.

There is a new motorman on the Rockport line who is young, has curly hair, and out in his home town he was considered quite a cut-up. He is just learning his work. Yesterday out near the end of the line a pretty girl stood at a crossing. As the car with the gallant young motorman at the helm approached, the fair one gracefully waved her hand, the custom in signaling a street car to stop. The new motorman appeared delighted. He let go his hold on the airbrake, handle long enough to wave his hand in return, raise his cap, smile and bow. And the car sped merrily on.

"Why in thunder didn't you stop for that passenger?" demanded the amazed instructor, who stood at the new motorman's elbow.

"Is that what she wanted?" innocently asked the wary-haired one. "I thought she was trying to flirt with me. I don't let none of these gals get the best of me in this here flirtn' business."

"Well, can you beat that?" murmured the instructor.—Kansas City Star.

Fearful and Wonderful Product

The trial of a case that involves the important question, "What is whisky?" is greatly interesting to the British at present. It presents many problems. "Suppose," asked one of the counsel, the other day, "that a merchant has a blend of spirit three months old and spirit ten years old, what is the age of that whisky?" "Five years and a half," replied the witness.

King Rides for Health.

King Edward has taken to equestrian exercise as a means of keeping down his weight. Since the rabbit-hole mishap which lamed him his majesty has been unable to take walking exercise. His liver began to show signs of rebellion, and the best his physicians could do was to order their royal patient into the saddle. Equestrianism so far has not reduced the king's waist measurement.

Naturally Interested.

Sir H. E. Roscoe tells this story: "Sir Robert Ball on one occasion, after delivering a lecture on 'Sun Spots and Solar Chemistry,' met a young lady who expressed her regret that she had missed hearing him on the previous evening. 'Well, you see,' he said, 'I don't know that it would have interested you particularly, as it was all about sun spots.' 'Why,' she replied, 'it would have interested me extremely, for I have been a martyr to freckles all my life.'"
